Every student, every day, whatever it takes!

“The highest form of human knowledge... is empathy, for it requires us to suspend our egos and understand the existence of another. It requires profound purpose larger than the self-kind of understanding.” Unknown

At Burnett, as we engage students with their new learning and attempt to create a more equitable school and a more aware community, it is important that we listen to and learn from each other. Schooling can be intense. When we empathize and truly listen to each other, we start to develop a more complete picture of those that feel overwhelmed, marginalized or mistreated.

Empathy is the capacity to understand and share the feelings of others. It is the ability to be aware of other people’s emotions, experiences, and perspectives. At Burnett, we take into account each student’s beliefs, emotions, and personal situation when engaging students in their learning. We attempt to internalize the knowledge we gain through empathizing with students and parents, so that it can guide our practice and define our school culture as inclusive, where all students will find success and the opportunity to be happy.

It takes empathy to know when and how it is appropriate to teach someone. Sometimes empathizing is the only way to get someone to expose their vulnerabilities so that they can grow and learn. For these reasons, empathy is one of the most important traits of a great teacher. Approaching others with empathy is the key to harmonize teaching practices with learning needs.

Acquiring knowledge through empathy is a cornerstone for good pedagogical practices. It provides us with the highest form of human knowledge and it is a vital part of teaching and learning.

At Burnett we Champion Students and their Learning

Burnett Learning Time(BLT) starts September 20th - 22nd

Two periods of instructional time each week is set aside as “self-directed” personalized learning time for students. Students independently learn and pursue their passions with teacher support and mentorship. Students are given choice and ownership over their learning, while staff facilitate by providing a supportive learning environment.

Signing up for BLT is required

Sign-up information for BLT will be provided during the week of September 12th. Teachers are asked to share information about their availability with their students before Sept 20th. Students are asked to set their own goals and plan ahead for their BLT. Students will use a web-based sign-up system, same as last year.
