Every student, every day, whatever it takes!
"The way we talk to our children becomes their inner voice."
Peggy O'Mara

What an individual believes about themselves shapes their existence. What an individual believes about themselves is influenced by many things. One of the key influencers is an individual's inner voice.

An "inner voice" is the sum total of all the people that have influenced an individual from birth onward. As teachers and parents, the way we talk to our children becomes their inner voice. Speak to children with kindness and compassion...and the child's inner voice will in turn speak to them with kindness and compassion. Speak to children with anger and indifference, and their inner voice will speak to them with anger and indifference. Speak to them about their strengths, and their inner voice will speak to them about their strengths and not their weaknesses. Their inner voice will speak to them about never giving up and always trying their best if that is how the adults in their life speak to them.

The inner voice is so important: "It is designed to be our superhero, that fights big and small battles." It is hard to fight any battles when we don't believe in ourselves. It is hard to fight any battles, big or small, when one's inner voice says, "you are not capable, the storm is too big, the task is too difficult, and you are too weak."

If you want your student/child to have a strong inner voice, let them overhear the nice things you say about them to others. Let them hear all the things they are doing right. Let them hear how proud you are of them. Let them hear all the positive stuff so that for a lifetime their inner voice reminds them of all they are capable of. Let them hear the positive so that when they are alone and the "storm" is building, and their parents and teachers are no longer with them, their inner voice reminds them of how much you believed in them, how much you cared about them, and how much you loved them.

At Burnett we "Champion Students and their Learning."

OUR FOCUS IS ON engaging our students and staff in creating a more equitable school and a more aware community...at Burnett we have more than 50 student lead clubs, with the primary purpose of most of the clubs being, "serve to others." The clubs give back to our community, to those that are less privileged. Burnett students volunteer their time and raise money to give back to those that are less fortunate, those that need a helping hand and those that have been marginalized. Every day, the students at Burnett make the lives of others better through their actions and commitment to making the world a better place. Our students prove every day that "Together we are stronger."
