Listening, Learning, and Leading
Every student, every day, whatever it takes!
“Education is not just about imparting knowledge; it's about nurturing the holistic growth of students.”

Over the last number of years, a profound shift has been taking place in schools. Beyond the traditional focus of knowledge acquisition, educators are increasingly recognising the importance of nurturing not only intellectual development but also emotional and social growth. This approach extends beyond intellectual development to focus on developing three essential areas: belonging, mattering, and becoming.

“Belonging” is more than just fitting in; it's the cornerstone upon which self-actualisation is built. When students feel a deep sense of belonging within a school community, they are more likely to embrace the journey of self-discovery and growth. When students know they belong, they are more open to embracing a growth mindset, believing that their abilities and intelligence can be developed through effort and perseverance.

“Mattering” is the fuel that drives self-efficacy—the belief in one's ability to accomplish tasks and achieve goals. When students feel that they matter within their school and classroom, they are more likely to overcome difficulties and embrace challenges. They understand that their contributions are valued and that they are not alone in their journey.

“Becoming” is process of becoming the best version of oneself. Belonging and mattering serve as the scaffolding upon which “becoming” who you want to be is built on.

When students feel they belong, they are more resilient in the face of challenges, and when they know they matter, they are more passionate about their pursuits. ‘Becoming’ represents the ongoing process of self-actualisation, where students evolve, adapt, grow and becoming who they want to be. Championing Students and Their Learning

Awards Ceremony and Athletic Banquet. On June 19th, we will have an Awards Ceremony in the Gym during the school day for grades 8-11.
